Horizon School Division
Principal: Bryan Pritchard

Hello everyone,

March is kind of like the forgotten middle child. Even the proverb "March winds and April showers bring forth May flowers" has shortened over time to exclude the month of winds. However, I propose that March is a very under-appreciated month. For example, March 4th is the only date that, when said aloud, is also a complete sentence. Pi day is March 13th, and who doesn't love Pi?

March is also Red Cross month. By happy coincidence, many of our staff are using the two Professional Development days in March to get our First Aid certification.

As we transition into spring, I cannot state enough how well the students and staff have adapted and grown throughout the year. We just had three high school students successfully complete GREEN certificate testing, our K-5 kids are sharing the playground spaces very well, and our Early Learning kids bring smiles and laughter to our hallways each Wednesday.

We currently have 4 student teachers from the University of Lethbridge helping students and learning from our staff. We are looking forward to the ideas and lessons that they will bring for our students.

Thank you, everyone, that completed the Horizon Assurance survey. Warner School values your responses, and we are now preparing plans to try to best match your input. Continuous improvement is always the main goal. Have a wonderful month.

Welcome to Warner School: Student teachers from University of Lethbridge

Hi, my name is Colton Cronkite. I grew up on a cattle ranch outside of Raymond, Alberta. I played and coached various sports from football, basketball, baseball, rodeo, martial arts and many more. After high school, I had a major change of scenery as I attended the University of Tennessee for a year. I returned back to Canada after this to attend the University of Calgary for two years. Now I've returned home to attend the University of Lethbridge to pursue a Bachelor of Education. I live a very active lifestyle as I'm currently a professional athlete (was a member of Team Canada in 2016 and 2017), anytime I'm not training for that I'm usually working on my family's ranch, doing something in the outdoors or involved in sports/physical activity. Coaching played a big role in the reason I decided to pursue becoming a teacher, I really enjoy working with others and helping them to achieve their potential. I look forward to the rest of my education degree, expanding my knowledge on all things that will benefit myself and my future students when I become a teacher. I'm really looking forward to this practicum! Thanks for welcoming me into your classroom and school!

Welcome to Warner School: Student teachers from the University of Lethbridge

Hello, my name is Samuel Chambers-Dumont, and I am a PSII student at the University of Lethbridge. I also hold a bachelor's degree in finance and am fluent in French. Growing up as a francophone in southern Alberta exposed me to diverse perspectives and a chance to see the impact small schools can have on their students. Outside of school, I have explored many interests including music, powerlifting, costume design and more. Currently, I am very interested in board games and at last count I have over 60 games on my shelves. The drive out to Warner will let me listen to podcasts and audiobooks daily, and I am excited to learn many new things. Learning is a passion of mine, and I look forward to discovering the interests, skills, and passions of Warner school's population. Thank you for welcoming me to the Warner community and I look forward to meeting and working with you all.

Hi, my name is Will Nevada and I'm from the University of Lethbridge. I grew up on a farm outside of Airdrie, Alberta and during my time in high school developed a passion for wanting to teach. During my upcoming practicum at Warner School, working alongside Mr. Korol, I look forward to learning and growing as a professional teacher.

Sewing option: One of our current CTS options for junior/senior high students is a sewing class. Mrs. Dolan and Mrs. Paul are excited to be instructing small groups of students as they complete different projects. This group will be starting with a pillow!

What do three courts, 12 teams and 24 teachers/jr high/sr high students represent? The Korol-Zink Challenge Cup and the chance to beat Mr Zink and Mr Korol at a game of pickleball. For the next couple of months we will be playing pickleball in the gym over the lunch hour to see who will hoist the "Green Pickle" Cup. P.S. Mr Zink and Mr Korol are still undefeated!
